Tokyo, July 14, 2021 --- MUFG today announced that MUFG's five core group companies¹ have donated a total of 53.25 million yen to Osaka Prefecture to support the introduction of the first hydrogen fuel cell-powered buses² in the prefecture.

As Japan's efforts toward the realization of a carbon-free society are accelerating with the aim of achieving carbon neutrality by 2050, hydrogen is attracting increasing attention as a next-generation energy source. Osaka Prefecture has established a new subsidy program³ for local businesses to help realize the introduction of fuel cell buses there, which are expected to be used at the Osaka-Kansai Expo scheduled for 2025.

MUFG announced its MUFG Carbon Neutrality Declaration and as it accelerates efforts towards decarbonization, has defined its purpose as "committed to empowering a brighter future." Its business activities are driven by the determination to make every effort to empower all stakeholders to take the next step forward.

MUFG has furthermore identified 10 priority issues for enhancing sustainability management and positions hydrogen and next-generation energy as a priority area for climate change and environmental conservation.

MUFG will support the introduction of the first two fuel cell buses in Osaka Prefecture through a donation to the prefectural government's subsidy project and will contribute to the construction of a hydrogen supply chain and the realization of a sustainable future society.
